

Pioneers

This issue of the Journal is dedicated to the following pioneers who have been constant source of inspiration.

- If you cry because the sun has gone out of your life, your tears will prevent you from seeing the stars.

- Rabindranath Tagore
- The best cure of the body is a quite mind.

- Napoleon Bonaparte
- Experience is not what happens to a man; it is what a man does with what happens to him.

- Aldous Huxley
- A river cuts through rocks, not because of its power, but because of its persistence.

- Jim Watkins
- There will always be rocks in the road ahead of us. They will be stumbling blocks or stepping stones; it all depends on how you use them.

- Friedrich Nietzsche
- Geologists have a saying – rocks remember.

- Neil Armstrong
- A wise person is like a smoothly polished rock: it takes time to become either.

- Vera Nazarian
- If I have a thousand ideas and only one turns out to be good, I am satisfied.

- Alfred Nobel
- Life is a beautiful magnificent thing, even to a jellyfish.

- Charles Chaplin
- The essence of science is independent thinking, hard work, and not equipment. When I got my Nobel Prize, I had spent hardly 200 rupees on my equipment.

- C. V. Raman
- Trust is earned when actions need words.

- Chris Butler
