- Every noble activity makes room for itself.
- Emerson
- All good things which exist are the fruit of originality.
- John Stuart Mill
- No great man ever complains of want of opportunity.
- R.W.Emerson
- Health is the vital principle of bliss.
- J. Thomson
- A word to the wise is sufficient.
- Terence
- Colours fade, temples crumble, empires fall, but wise words endure.
- Thorndike
- There is no chance for the welfare of the world unless the condition of women is improved; it is not possible for a bird to fly on only one wing.
- Swami Vivekanand
- The whole of science is nothing more than a refinement of every day thinking.
- Albert Einstein
- Everything that is done in the world is done by hope.
- Martin Luther King
- The author himself is the best judge for his performance.
- Gibbon
- As a cure for worrying, work is better than whiskey.
- Thomas A. Edison
- The world is a beautiful book, but of little use to him who can not read it.
- Goldoni
- I think the next best thing to solving a problem is finding some humour in it.
- Frank Clark
